PRESIDENTS REPORT

Hi Members,

Our first skid pan motorkhana event of the year at Sydney Motorsport Park on Saturday 5th March was a great success with 42 entries from a number of clubs. A good time was had by all with a slight change of getting the first half of the running numbers to run through first on both test while the other half watched. It seemed to flow better with less congestion in the movement of cars between tests. Good work Steve.

Tony M and myself went to the Formula 1 in Melbourne in March for him to volunteer in the scrutineering bay and me to spectate and provide accommodation (my brother in laws apartment in the middle of Melbourne). A good race, baring the crash, but the new qualifying really mixed up the grid for the start of the race which I think lead to a better race.

Our next event on the calender is a motorkhana at Ansell Park run by CACA, hope to see you there to score more points in the club championship.

All the best

Phil Whitaker

Devotions – April 2016

Introduction

We continue our series looking at the church, at how God sees his people, not just as a collection of individuals, but as the pinnacle of his creation and the ultimate purpose of our being. This month we see that the earthly church is an expression of the true heavenly church.

The Reading

Ex 19:9 And the Lord said to Moses, "Behold, I am coming to you in a thick cloud, that the people may hear when I speak with you, and may also believe you forever." When Moses told the words of the people to the Lord, the Lord said to Moses, "Go to the people and consecrate them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their garments and be ready for the third day. For on the third day the Lord will come down on Mount Sinai in the sight of all the people. And you shall set limits for the people all around, saying, 'Take care not to go up into the mountain or touch the edge of it. Whoever touches the mountain shall be put to death. No hand shall touch him, but he shall be stoned or shot; whether beast or man, he shall not live.' When the trumpet sounds a long blast, they shall come up to the mountain." So Moses went down from the mountain to the people and consecrated the people; and they washed their garments. And he said to the people, "Be ready for the third day; do not go near a woman."

Heb 12:18 For you have not come to what may be touched, a blazing fire and darkness and gloom and a tempest and the sound of a trumpet and a voice whose words made the hearers beg that no further messages be spoken to them. For they could not endure the order that was given, "If even a beast touches the mountain, it shall be stoned." Indeed, so terrifying was the sight that Moses said, "I tremble with fear." But you have come to Mount Zion and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to innumerable angels in festal gathering, and to the assembly of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, and to God, the judge of all, and to the spirits of the righteous made perfect, and to Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that speaks a better word than the blood of Abel. (ESV)

The teaching

Last month we saw that God had called the people of Israel (i.e. the descendants of Jacob) out of Egypt, and that they were his treasured possession, his kingdom of priests and his holy nation. We saw this as an act of grace, that they had not done anything in or of themselves, but that God acted out of love to draw them towards himself. Even so, as we see in the first part of today's reading, he set boundaries and conditions with significant consequences if they were violated. God was to be feared above all else, and he could only be approached on his terms. God's people, his treasured possession whom he had called out of Egypt, were summoned to the foot of Mt Sinai to gather as his people (the church), but were not to ascend it. They were given proximity to God's presence, but no direct access to it.

But now, those of us who are in Christ are summoned to Mt Zion, the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem where God dwells amongst his people. After Jesus rose from the dead (that we have just celebrated at Easter), he ascended into heaven and was seated at the right hand of God the Father, where he remains for all time. As we are in Christ then, we also are seated at God's right hand in the heavenly places.

The true church is that heavenly gathering of innumerable angels and the spirits of all those who have been perfected by the sacrificial blood of Jesus our mediator (by the grace of God alone, and by no merit of our own). The old covenant of the unapproachable God has been superseded by the new covenant where God welcomes us into his presence with rejoicing.

How then should we live our lives in this world? Our gathering together as God's people as the church on earth (both at meetings like this where we share God's word and the local congregations that meet weekly, however imperfect that may be) is an expression of our membership in the heavenly church. Do we see our salvation as a one off event when we were converted, and that heaven is yet to come, but seems far off in the distance? Or do we see that our lives here are to reflect the reality of our standing in Christ, seated with him at God's right hand; and that we see the living out of our relationship with God now as the beginning of heaven for us? Our relationship with God in this world can be likened to that of an engagement where we enjoy some of the benefits of the union, such as the fellowship and friendship of our lifelong soulmate, but where the full benefits are not realized until the actual marriage is entered into. There are elements of heaven here on earth, especially as we gather together as the church, but the best will not be revealed until we pass from this life into the next and we are gathered into the true church.

Prayer

Father, thank you for your grace that is poured out into our lives as we submit to your truth, that you make us into a family, into a spiritual house that is your church and into your own people, preparing us for works of service that glorify you. Amen.

Michelle's Lament (Thanks Dad)

First event of the year Skid Pan at Eastern Creek Saturday 5th March 2016
Well what can I say what a fabulous day! Perfect weather! Perfect turnout! Run Peeeerfectly! (that's an attempt to say extra special thankyou to young Mr Gifford putting in a super effort working hard on his own to set up in the morning! It is appreciated! It was great to see lots of helpers at the end of the day. It warms my heart to see Adam with his sons out there being led by dad. Ohh and Mr Gifford Senior great impersonation of a bank teller very efficient as always (how many ways can counting money be pleasurable – correct answer all of them!) enough onto the day. Wait, thanks for attending boot camp Phil or so I heard!

Onto the days fun. Well, a lot of people looked rusty. JK looked out of sorts till very late in the day. One fastest time of the day! Congratulations! The rest of the fastest times belonged to the Thornleigh car clubs blue lancer coupe with LSD and a lot of tuning. The owner admitted to JK that this was his 3rd skidpan event for the year! He wasn't rusty at all! Ben certainly looked good all day, apparently that's what happens when you get married and have a baby! Let this be a lesson for some younger ones …. Maybe! Ben I do suggest you look at that engine its blowing a little smoke or is it some secret thing you have done to that poor little engine! The highlight of the day for me was the white Starlet finishing completely sideways in the finishing garage! 90 Degrees out! How about the normally aspirated Subaru. Did anyone notice the little boy in the white Subaru, he was sitting on 6 inches of foam and still couldn't see over the dash but was fast. I spent the first part of the morning asking Subaru WRX owners how do you drive these cars on the skid pan? Here are few responses in no particular order:-

1. Well it's like a FWD car on the way in and a RWD on the way out. I found this particularly unhelpful. All I could think of was left and right brain. Male hemisphere and female hemisphere. How was I going to do this …… obviously get in touch with my feline side of the brain?
2. It's just a matter of pressing hard on the accelerator when you want to turn. I asked before or after the cone. The response was a puzzled look then a thoughtful answer of well when you see the cone hit the accelerator! Once again I felt "how was I going to do this" or "what was really meant by the comments". I deduced that orange is a colour that means accelerate hard when you own a Subaru!
3. Driving at the skid pan in a WRX is easy just turn the wheel and use the hand brake, clutch and most importantly the accelerator, in that order. I asked all the time? The response was yes! I was getting out my depth!
4. Subaru driving is easy, just keep looking out the window! Enough said!

No one was helpful. I was on my own!

I really enjoyed ridding in the mighty RWD Corolla. I thought it was Trevor's but no it wasn't! How much fun are old cars. Character, they simply take the punishment. It made me pine for our old Mazda 323 with rust. It reminds about turning up to Ansell Park in it one day I was asked what work I had done to it between events. I replied well I have light weighted it. The fellow walked off but came back later in the day and asked what I had done. My response was "I took the tow bar off". Back to the event it was fun and thanks to JK for ridding with me and reminding me to go fast one has to press the accelerator down! I spent some time with a guy in a red Subaru WRX station wagon, he was good to watch drive, I learnt a lot (press the accelerator!). It was good to talk to a husband and wife and their 12 year old daughter driving Honda's. Dad told me he had bought a Subaru WRX with a bit of rust and a few dents for future events. I think I upset him when I said I had paid the same amount of money for mine that he paid for his!

I must explain the title. My daughter "Michelle" was going to come to the event but couldn't come because of an engagement party. Unfortunately it is going to be on next week!

Thanks for listening!
